

Strategic Deployment

Kimberly Miller
CMO, Chief Outsiders

Do any of these statements
sound
familiar?

- We've been talking about launching that product for 3 years
- That product has been in development for 5 years
- We've looked at entering that market for the last decade
- Even with year-over-year capital expenditures in equipment, our capacity hasn't increased
- OTD(productivity, inventory turns) is an initiative every year and we have never reached our goal

Do we have the tools, resources and plans to reach the Summit?

What we will discuss today

IMPLEMENTING THE STRATEGIC PLAN – NOT CREATING ONE

ROLES OF ENTIRE TEAM IN THE PROCESS

TOOLS FOR DEPLOYING
THROUGHOUT ORGANIZATION

Take away

Strategy Deployment and near-term objectives are not mutually exclusive

Hoshin Kanri Model

"compass management"

- Originated from post-war Japan
- 7-step process utilized around the world
- The breakthrough approach to growth
- Getting every employee pulling in the same direction at the same time

Hoshin

"setting a direction or setting an objective."

Kanri

"management."

"the management of objectives."

Questions?

Do I have a clear vision for the business that is communicated to all employees?

Are we executing to the vision while continuing to deliver near-term objectives?

What is Strategic Deployment

Help us deliver on today AND TOMORROW

Brings Long-term Vision in Mid-term Strategic Plan and Short-term Actions

Sets priorities and formalizes process for ensuring short-term actions are being taken to keep collective organization on track to long-term vision

Creates language and collaboration amongst team members

What are the roles?

Business and Functional Leaders

Connect the strategy to each employee
Align goals and objectives to strategic priorities
Drive for results

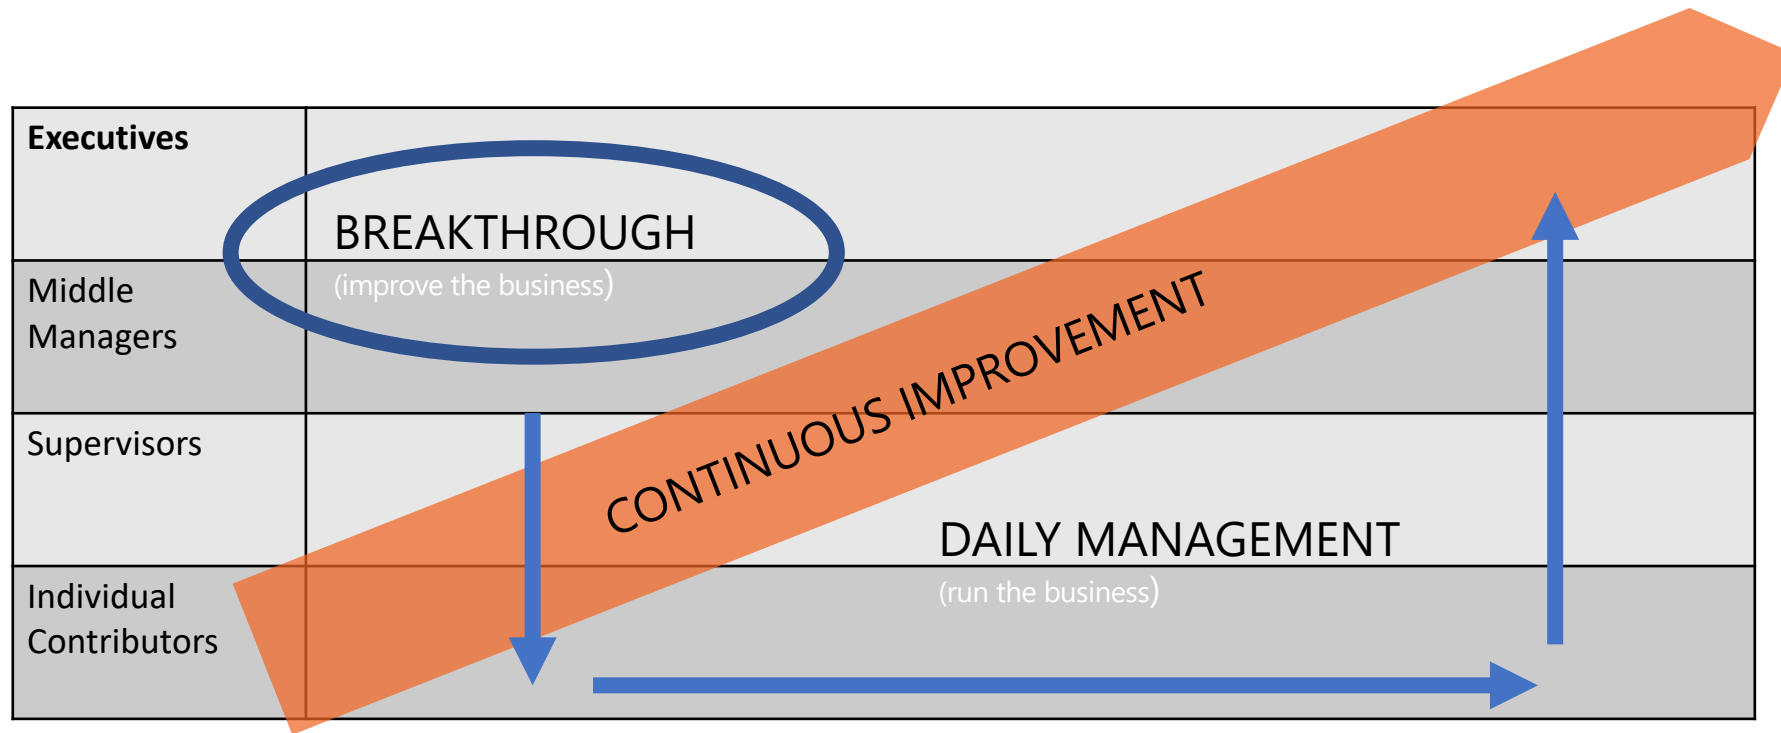

Managers and Individual Contributors

Ask questions....challenge the status quo
“look for a better way” in everything you do
Prioritize your work, focus on the customer
Continuously improve what we do

The Drive to Performance Excellence powered by everyone

How you should spend your time?

Strategic Deployment helps us deliver on today and tomorrow

The Important vs the Urgent

|--|--|
| MANAGE Pressing and Crisis Problems Demand & Necessity Daily Fire Fighting Delegate Quickly Important and Urgent | FOCUS Strategies and Values Opportunity & Planning Critical Thinking Macro Considerations Important and Not Urgent |
| AVOID Interruptions and Busy Work Illusion & Deception Not your Emergency Minimize Investment Urgent and Not Important | LIMIT Trivial and Wasteful Escape & Waste Entertainment Only Use to Minimize Stress Not Important or Urgent |

Goal to maintain focus on the Strategy in order to limit the busy work and waste

Questions

I know the 3 critical action required in the next 12 months in order to meet our 3-year Vision?

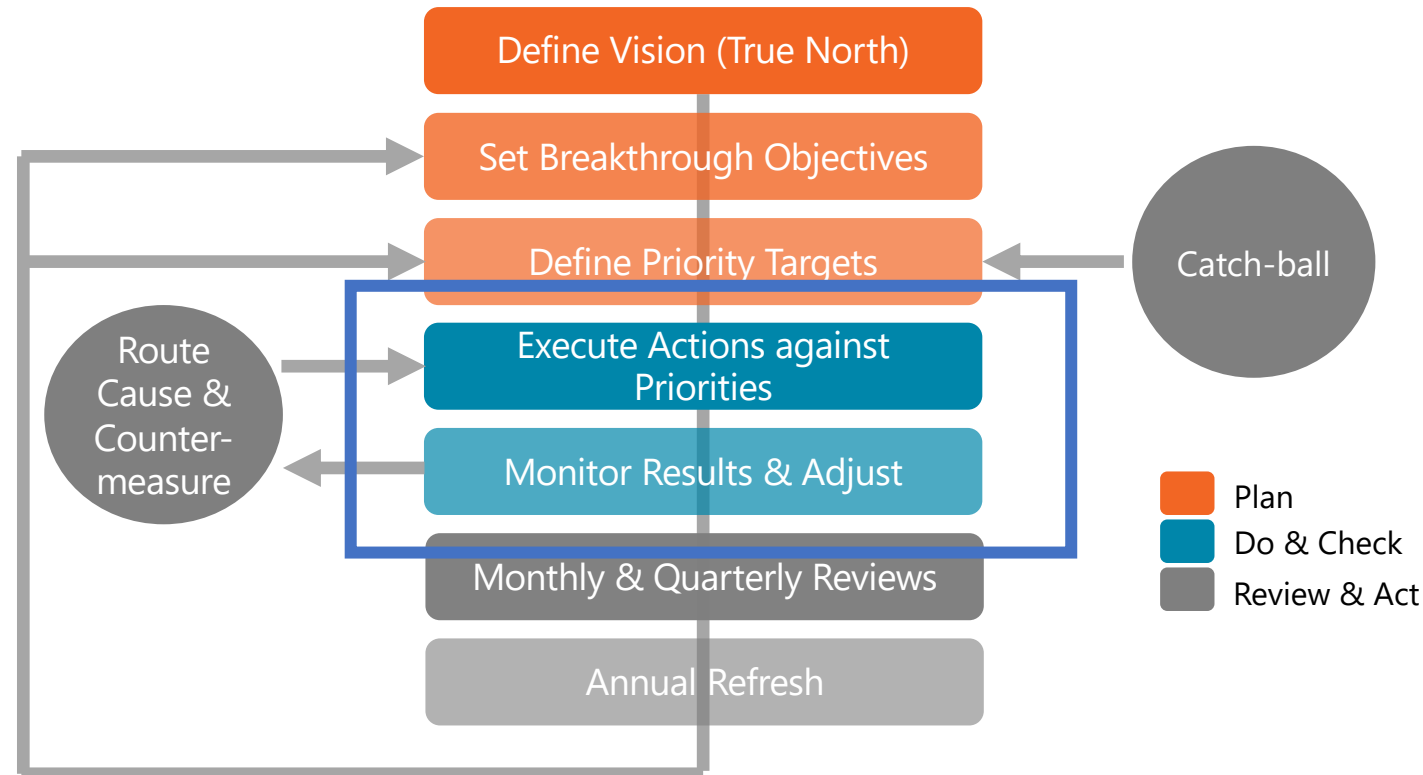

I know who owns each of those actions?

That owner and the entire organization know what success looks like?

Strategy Deployment Process and Tools

these statements
sound
familiar?

- We've been talking about this for 3 years
- That product has been in development for 3 years
- We've looked at entering that market for the last decade
- Even with year-over-year growth in equipment, our throughput is stagnant
- OTD (productivity, inventory, etc.) is a constant challenge every year and we have no idea how to fix it

No clear Owner

No Action Plan

No defined first step

Base Camp vs. Summit

Entire team alignment

Three things you can do tomorrow

1. Determine the number 1 strategic initiative for 3-year plan achievement?
2. Look to see how you are resourcing, deploying and actioning to that goal?
3. Objectively review the tools, roadmap and culture to support?
